https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FZDfibPtBII Watch the video about Mary Seacole (there are three parts). What was she famous for? What kind of person do you think she was? Why do you think she was told that she was not needed in the beginning? Is this fair?	Read the fact file to help you. There are different levels to choose. https://www.twinkl.co.uk/resource/t-h-197-ks1-mary-seacole-differentiated-fact-file What adjectives could you use to describe Mary Seacole? Create a spider diagram with her name in the middle and all of the adjectives around the outside.	Can you write a letter to Mary Seacole telling her what you think of the work that she did? Remember how to lay out your letter and to include correct punctuation.	Purple polish your work and share it with someone else in your family. Ask them to give you feedback on your letter. You could try this grammar activity. https://www.twinkl.co.uk/resource/t-l-52016-year-2-grammar-using-subordinating-conjunctions-when-if-that-and-because-activity-booklet	Can you design an award that you would give to her for her work? You can look up examples of awards to give you some ideas.

Can you draw or paint a portrait of Mary Seacole. You can look for pictures of her on the internet. badger@stjohns-farnham.surrey.sch.uk	What ingredients do you think make a good friend? Write a list of them.	See purple mash for this week's Science work.	Did you learn the friendship song? You could record yourselves singing or dancing to it and send it in! https://www.bbc.co.uk/programmes/p07q3hln	Can you make a collage of a special person to you outside using sticks, leaves etc. to create it? If you find any egg shells don't forget to use the spotter chart with this week's news letter to identify the eggs.
